Insurance.

The following anecdote on insurance is good enough for reproduction:

A gentleman to whom the Drawer is indebted for many pleasant things was not a little amused last summer, at the White Sulphur Springs, by the persistent and ingenious manner in which "that life-insurance man" plied his calling. After having gone through nearly all the male guests at the hotel, he finally lit upon a tough old gentleman, and labored with him on the subject of a policy. The tough old gentleman finally determined to bring matters to a crisis, and one fine morning put the thing to him in this shape:

"My dear sir, I think, on the whole, I won't take out a life policy; but I will tell you what I should feel willing to do; can you insure my soul?"

"Well, sir, that is something a little out of our line—we don't take fire risks!"

A Political Good One.

The last Harper in its Drawer has this political anecdote that will make anybody laugh but a fugitive carpet-bagger:

The Democracy have had a clear working majority in ——, Illinois, for a number of years. But when the Fifteenth Amendment went into effect it enfranchised so many of our "cullud bredren" as to make it apparent to the party leaders that unless a good many black votes could be bought up, the Republicans would carry the city election. Accordingly advances were made to the Rev. brother ——, whose influence it was thought desirable to secure, inasmuch as he was certain to control the votes of his entire church.

He was "found open to conviction," and arrangements progressed satisfactorily until it was asked how much money would be necessary to secure his vote and influence.

With an air of offended dignity brother —— replied:

"Now gemmen, as a regular awdained minister ob de Baptist Church, dis ting has gone jes as far as my conscience will 'low; but, gemmen, my son will call round to see you in de mornin'."

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY, November 7, 1871.

SENATE.

The Senate met at 9 A. M. President Trammel in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Armenius Wright.

The roll was called and the journal of the last day read and approved.

A bill to repeal an act to make it lawful for the legal voters of Atlanta to vote for Mayor in any ward of said city, and to prevent any citizen from voting for Aldermen of said city in any ward except that in which he may reside (known as the Holcomb bill) was, on motion of Mr. Hillyer, taken up on third reading.

Senator Campbell opposed the passage of the bill.

Mr. Hillyer reviewed the history of the bill, which was passed.

Bills were read the first time.

Mr. Hillyer—A bill to require non-resident liquor dealers to take out licenses, and for other purposes.

Mr. Nunnally—A bill to incorporate the Mechanics and Traders Bank of Georgia.

Mr. Peddy—A bill to incorporate the LaGrange and Birmingham Railroad, and to grant certain powers and privileges to the same.

Mr. Reese—A bill to compensate ordinaries, sheriffs and clerks of the Superior Courts.

Also a bill to provide for taking bonds of public officers and qualifying the same.

Mr. President—A bill to regulate trials before juries in certain cases—providing that a requsted charge, which is rejected, shall not be read to the jury.

Also a bill to prescribe the manner of incorporating bills of exceptions, and for other purposes.

Also, a bill to amend section 2531 of the Code, making personal property purchased bona fide, and held for two years, to be discharged from all liens.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

A bill to repeal the usury law in this State, and to fix the rate of interest at 7 per cent., where the same is not fixed by agreement of parties.

Mr. Matthews offered an amendment which provides that the rate of interest agreed upon shall not exceed 12 per cent.

Mr. Brown advocated the passage of the bill on the ground that it will tend to reduce the rate of interest practically, and that money should be subject to contract as other commodities.

Mr. Hinton opposed the bill because it would divert capital from such investments as would benefit the public; would advance the interests of a few at the expense of the many, and the law which it proposes to repeal has stood the test of many years trial.

Mr. Brock spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Mathews also favored its passage.

Mr. Hillyer proposed an amendment that the rate of interest shall be fixed at seven per cent, which may be changed by agreement, in writing, of parties for a time not longer than one year, and if the debt shall not be paid at the expiration of that time, five per cent only shall be collected thereon, and insisted that this amendment would make it the creditor's interest to collect the debt at the end of the year and so promote the circulation of capital, and would break the force of the innovation.

Mr. Brown was opposed to the amendment.

The amendment of Mr. Matthews was lost.

The amendment of Mr. Hillyer was lost.

The bill was passed.

Mr. Erwin offered a resolution that the Committee on Public Printing be requested to inquire if the acts and journals of the last Legislature are ready for distribution, and if ready, why they have they not been distributed. Adopted.

A bill to provide for filling the unexpired term of Hon. R. B. Bullock, late Governor, by a special election, was taken up and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

A message was received from the Governor, merely stating the transmission of the report of the Comptroller General.

A bill to repeal an act to organize the District Court and define its jurisdiction.

Mr. Hillyer offered an amendment exempting the 10th and 35th Districts from the operation of the bill.

Mr. Hinton thought the bill was not constitutional until some substitute for the District Court should be adopted and moved to lay it on the table. Motion was lost.

Mr. Reese was opposed to the amendment.

Mr. Welch stated that the District Court was desired in his District (10th) and hoped it would be exempted from the bill.

The amendment was lost and the bill passed.

A bill to amend an act to incorporate the town of Hawkinsville, Pulaski county, to define the limits of the same. Passed.

A bill to provide for the granting of new trials in certain cases. Lost.

A bill to confer additional powers on the corporate authorities of the town of Barnesville. Passed.

A bill to alter and amend section 649 of the Code, requiring all male inhabitants between the ages of 18 and 50, except licensed ministers, subject to work on public roads. Passed.

Bills were read the second time.

A message was received from the Governor transmitting the report of the State School Commissioner, which with the report of the Comptroller, was appropriately referred to bills on first reading.

Mr. Hinton—A bill to make penal the sale of personal property subject to a mortgage.

Mr. Smith—A bill to amend section 3189 of the Code, so as to give the moving creditor in garnishment privilege over all others.

On motion, the Senate then adjourned until 9 A. M. to-morrow.

HOUSE.

The House met at the usual hour, Speaker Smith in the chair.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. McMillan.

The Journal was read and approved.

Mr. O. L. Cloud was sworn in as member from Warren county.

Mr. Fain offered a resolution providing for the reference to the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the contested election in Spalding county. Adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Goldsmith tendering a seat on this floor, to Rev. Mr. Hornady, was adopted.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Davis of Clarke, providing for the appointment of a joint committee to visit the penitentiary and report upon the treatment of convicts. This resolution went over under the rules.

Mr. Hoge, from the Judiciary Committee, reported that there were some grave questions of law in connection with the election of a Governor, which the Committee desired to look into carefully, and that further time was asked for before making a report. He also said that the Committee had authorized him to recommend to the House the inexpediency of having afternoon sessions in consequence of the large amount of business before the Committees. Further time was granted as requested.

A message from the Senate was received, saying that the Senate had passed the "Atlanta Bill," and had concurred in the House resolution in relation to Governor Bullock's resignation; also, in the joint resolution rescinding the joint resolution of the General Assembly, approved May 5th, 1870.

The bill to change the time of holding McDuffie and Columbia Superior Courts, was read the third time and passed.

Also a bill to incorporate the Van Wert State Mining Company of Polk county.

A number of bills were read the second time and referred to appropriate committees or engrossed for a third reading.

A resolution by Mr. Hudson, of Schley, instructing the messenger to ascertain if the State Librarian has a sufficient number of copies of the State Constitution and public laws of 1870, for the use of members, etc. Adopted.

A resolution by Mr. Snead, providing that three additional members be added to the Judiciary Committee, was introduced but not acted on.

A letter from Mr. Page, of Lee, and a certificate of his sickness from his attending physician, were read.

Mr. McWhorter moved that leave of absence be granted to Mr. Lee.

Mr. McMillan stated that information of Mr. Page's presence in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on the same day on which his certificate was signed in Catoosa county, had been received.

Mr. McWhorter withdrew his motion.

On motion of Mr. Craig the rules were suspended, and the message from the Governor, transmitting the report from the Comptroller General, was read.

The report was referred to the Joint Committee on Finances, without being read.

A second message from the Executive transmitting the report of the Superintendent of Education was read.

The report, without being read, was referred to the Committee on Education.

[CONDENSED FOR THE CONSTITUTION.]

Two telegraphic operators at Savannah, McCormack and Nichols, sloped on Saturday night with some fifteen thousand dollars.

Among the "Columbus Industries" exhibited at the Columbus Fair, is the Atlanta Cooking Stove, manufactured by D. Harris & Co. It burns wood, any kind of coal, and its own ashes. It was awarded a premium. The same firm has the Emory The Committee on Cooking, consisting of Dr. Billing, Dr. Ware, Col. Mustain, Mrs. McIlhenny and Mrs. Salisbury, found great difficulty in determining upon the relative merits of the contestants. They consider the performance of each very creditable and reflecting great honor upon the young ladies, as well as their mothers. But being compelled to discriminate, they award the first premium to Miss Ida Sikes; the second premiums to Miss Havana Beach and Miss Mattie Smith. If age were considered, the committee might have acted differently, as they consider the cooking of Miss Lula Radcliffe truly remarkable for a girl of thirteen years, and they respectfully recommend a special premium to her.—Columbus Sun.

Mt. Olive Church was constituted in Fulton county, near East Point, on the 28th of October, by the following Presbytery: Elders Wm. Thames, H. Walker, B. J. Walker, J. G. Speights, and George R Moor. Introductory sermon preached by George R. Moor, after which the questions were asked those wishing to be constituted into a church relationship, and J. Gilbert answered promptly all the questions for the brethren desiring to become a visible church. The Presbytery elected George R. Moor Moderator, and Elder H. Walker Clerk. Prayer by Elder W. Thames. Charge to the church by Elder B. J. Walker, and the Holy Bible was delivered to the church by Elder J. G. Speights.

The result of four days faithful labor of the above named brethren and the little church, with the kind and hospitable community was this: Thirty-one united—five willing subjects were baptised.—Fairburn Sentinel.

☞ The Chicago Tribune cautions Eastern merchants against trusting irresponsible Chicago dealers who are availing themselves of the sympathy of the people, to obtain credit which is likely to be abused. It says that many such men have rushed to the East proclaiming that they have lost heavily by the fire, when in fact their creditors have been the real sufferers. Our merchants, however, are usually pretty well informed as to the character of the men whom they sell merchandise on credit, and are not very like-

THE STATE PRINTING.

Render unto Cæsar the Things that are Cæsar's.

In times past we believed that the State Printing ought to be done at the seat of government. We are still of the same opinion. The law requires that the job work shall be done at the Capital, and that the proof sheets of the laws shall be read by the Acts on file in Secretary of State's office, and that the Governor shall have a supervision of the work. These requirements indicate very clearly that the work should be done at the seat of government. Besides the party press located at the Capital is expected to do the principal and leading work for the party, and is, in our opinion, fairly entitled to the work.

If the State Printing is honestly done, under the present law, there is not profit enough to warrant combinations of presses in distant portions of the State for the purpose of depriving the local press of work that they have a right to expect.—Federal Union.

☞ Gov. Bullock has preferred speedy slaughter by his own act to the more painful fate, a living barbecue, in fact, which his Georgia enemies have been preparing for him. His resignation came none too soon. The Georgia Legislature is hot for impeachment. The Attorney General has been instructed to commence a criminal suit against the fugitive Governor for coining large amounts of State bonds without authority of law, and that very ugly matter of the lease of the State Railroad has also come up for investigation. No wonder that Bullock wishes to "wash his hands of Georgia forever." It is only too evident that all his washing will not make them clean; and if that were his purpose, he might, with better effect, have allowed himself to be put through the very effective wringing machine which the Legislature is now preparing. Such an array of rascalities as has been brought up against this loyal Governor of a reconstructed State would suffice to drive any man either out of the country or into resignation. Bullock has chosen both. He will not visit the scenes of his exploits in bonds and railroads, nor will he longer retain official connection with a people that grumbles at being plundered.—Bullock, in fact, is "stalled."—Boston Post.

GOVERNOR BULLOCK, IN BAD ODOR WITH HIS OWN FRIENDS.—Governor Bullock, says the Louisville Ledger, doesn't seem to be meeting with any greater encouragement at the hands of the Republicans in New York than he did here. While in conversation with a distinguished Republican Senator of this city, a few days since, he said that he was about to resign, in order to escape the persecutions of his enemies. The reply made to him was that, if he was innocent, he would have nothing to fear, and especially with the national administration to back him and to afford him both protection and redress. By fleeing from justice Bullock has disgusted what few influential friends he had here, and his conduct since his cowardly abdication has convinced the most skeptical that he is guilty of all the charges preferred against him by the indignant people of Georgia. Whatever is done with Bullock, it may be safely asserted that he will receive neither aid nor comfort from this quarter.

☞ A certain Mr. Pugh, who conducts one of those patent "Lecture Bureaus"—always suggestive of hair parted in the middle—has been making some revelations concerning his gushing friend, Anna Dickinson. He says that in all of Miss D.'s travels she was never insulted but once, and that was while traveling in the cars out West. Upon this specific occasion an amorous swain reached his foot under the seat upon which the gentle Anna was sitting, and gently tread upon her foot in a way that was suggestive. We happen to know better than this. Miss Dickinson received a gross insult last winter from a brutal Missouri editor. She announced in one of her lectures that she had grown tired of the personal abuse which had been heaped upon her by the newspapers of the country, and that henceforth she proposed to give "tit for tat." Whereupon the criminally wicked editor in question replied, "Very good; here's our tat." If Miss Dickinson possesses the delicacy of feeling which we have always attributed to her, she must have felt insulted at that.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

☞ A correspondent of the New York World, writing from Spartanburg, S. C., narrates the following incident, which illustrates very forcibly the impression made by Grant's style of enforcing the laws:

A man from the country, about eighty years old, presented himself at the Marshal's office the other day, and said he had come in to confess. The commissioner, thinking he had a rich case in hand, seized his pen and asked: "Now, my good man, what do you know about the Ku-Klux?" "Ku-Klux!" replied the old man; "I know nothing about the Ku-Klux; I came to confess that I am a Democrat!"

Personal.

We had a pleasant call yesterday from Judge Hook, of Augusta, one of our friends of long standing. A royal gentleman and a true man.

General G. J. Wright.

We are informed that the friends of this gentleman intend to urge him strongly for the United States Senate. General Wright arrives in this city to-night.

University of Georgia.

The Trustees of the University will meet this morning at the Chamber of Commerce, opposite THE CONSTITUTION office, at 10 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Dr. Angier.

Dr. Angier is receiving many merited compliments from the Democratic press of the State for his sturdy opposition to Bullock's schemes. The Doctor is receiving the reward of his fidelity in the approval of the public.

Speaker Smith.

This gentleman has loomed up into a sudden and flattering prominence, and the general attention directed to him would seem to point him out as one of the "coming men" of Georgia. The suggestion of his name for Governor is receiving general consideration.

Candidates for United States Senator.

The struggle for United States Senator has narrowed down to the following limited number of candidates. Dr. H. V. M. Miller, Gen. A. R. Wright, Judge John T. Clarke, Judge Jas. S. Hook, Judge Worrell, Hon Thomas M. Norwood, Judge Linton Stephens, General P. M. B. Young, and thirty-nine others.

The Legislature.

The Atlanta bill giving our citizens the privilege of voting in any ward was passed yesterday, and only needs the signature of the acting Governor to become law. The bill it repealed was the partisan measure known as the "Holcombe bill." Let us see if the acting Governor can rise above faction, and sanction a proper measure.

The Senate repealed the usury law. We are glad to record this. Let us try the experiment of opening the door to money, and see if we can't have more money at cheaper rates of interest.

The Senate also repealed the act organizing the District Courts.

Impeachment Not Defeated by Resignation.

The Savannah News says that Article III., section 3, of the Constitution declares that "the House of Representatives has the sole power to impeach all persons who shall have been or may be in office." If there is any meaning in this distinct declaration of the Constitution, the House has the same power to impeach Bullock now, that it would have if he were still in office. Having the power, it is its duty to investigate the charges against him, and, if guilty, impeach him before the Senate.

Let us have "Justice, Wisdom and Moderation." But first in order, let us have JUSTICE.

A Right Thing.

Just after the Chicago fire the Mayor, Mr. Mason, requested Lieutenant General Phil. Sheridan to organize a militia force to preserve order in the city. Sheridan declared martial law. A young man named Treat, a member of this militia, acting under General Sheridan's instructions as a sentry, fired on and killed General Thomas W. Grosvenor.

Governor Palmer, the Republican Executive of Illinois has ordered Sheridan and his coadjutors in this affair to be dragged before the Court for the murder of Grosvenor. Governor Palmer appears to think that Sheridan had no right to suspend the operation of the Constitution and laws of Illinois, and substitute in their stead the law of military force to be defined and applied by himself. He charges that Sheridan and his associates in this impromptu and capricious exercise of martial law, by their lawless acts have attacked and insulted the dignity and authority of the State, and have, by their dangerous example, weakened public confidence in the constitution and the laws, and in their attempt to enforce usurped and lawless authority they have sacrificed the life of a peaceable citizen.

This is good for Palmer. It is cheering for constitutional law. These Democratic Republicans, like Palmer, must inevitably drift to the Democracy, and the sooner we can manage to get war issues out of the way, the sooner will they come.

This application of martial law to a

Ku-Klux.

The Radical organ in this city has begun its work again of aiding the circulation of slanders against Georgia. It is a true old adage that it is a bad bird that will soil its own nest. The crime in the present case is the greater, that the crucifixion of the State for the success of the Radical party, is the object of those who seek to establish the charge of disorder against the commonwealth. And that some of our people should be tributary to such an evil result, is an anomaly, difficult of comprehension. It furnishes perhaps the very strongest evidence to the theory of original depravity.

If the object of thus singling us out as exceptional monsters of crime was simply the punishment of the alleged offenders and the stopping of violence, the purpose could be applauded, and even the over-zeal in the cause of justice be excused. All good people are interested in the preservation of order and the execution of law; and they will go to any length to secure these desirable objects. And however hard it may be to own the existence of trouble among us, that is not half as bad as the trouble itself, and no sensible people will run the risk of encouraging crime by either denying or defending it.

But when the natural outbreaks of wrong that occur in every country and under all systems of society, and that are incident to nature, are to be exaggerated and perverted for partisan purposes; and when the effect of such exaggeration and perversion is to bring about the suspension of State government and the injury of the best interest of a section for political strategy, we say that the remedy is worse than the original evil, and that men who lend themselves to such discreditable crusade against their own people and country deserve the reprobation of the good everywhere.

It is no pleasure to us to pen paragraphs like these. But truth and right demand them. The man who indicts his own section upon slanders for partisan objects is a public foe.

We have never been the apologist of disorder of any kind. We believe that if there are to-day, any political Ku-Klux in the South of any party, they are the most dangerous enemies that we can have, and we condemn them and their crimes. This has been our position always.

We have had no more disorders in Georgia than occur in all communities. Crime is incident to society. Under the best circumstances we always have had and always will have it. The existence of the ordinary disorders of society is no ground for using extraordinary remedies to stop them.

Ku-Kluxism has been a convenient disguise for scamps. The cases in this State that have been discovered have been mostly simple occurrences of usual crime, that assumed the Ku-Klux concealment for convenience.

Numbers of cases have also been discovered where the perpetrators were Radicals and negroes, who wished to bring political odium upon the people, and add to the Ku-Klux slander. This year and last we exposed several instances of this kind.

Let this iniquitous and shameful sort of warfare on the State cease. No better evidence is needed of the quiet and lawfulness here, than the very fact that Radical journals can, with impunity, slander the State and sport with her welfare.

Our people are against crime of every sort and the man or journal that asserts to the contrary is a slanderer and an enemy.

The Atlantic and Great Western Canal.

We learn that, on Monday evening, there was a meeting of the board of directors of the Atlantic and Great Western Canal Company held in this city, at which important measures were taken, looking to the advancement of this great work.

We again take occasion to call public attention to this enterprise, which, if successfully carried out, will make Georgia pre-eminently, the "Empire State of the South," as a similar enterprise has made New York the Empire State of the Union. Who can estimate the gigantic results that will follow the opening of free and uninterrupted communication, by water, between the seaboard of Georgia and the Mississippi Valley? Every section of the State is vitally interested in its completion, and will instantaneously feel the impulse that will be given to every branch of industry. North Georgia will at once become the greatest coal and iron mining region in the Union; for in no other State do the coal and iron beds in exhaustless abundance lie so near together, or afford such rich materials. Her rich valleys, her immense water power, her salubrious climate, the adaptation of her soil to fruit culture, will offer attractions that the emigrant cannot resist. Upon the opening of such a canal the boundless pine forests of Southern Georgia, now almost valueless, will become rich mines of wealth, furnishing as they will the finest lumber in the world. Railroad men tell us that lumber can be shipped, by rail, from Georgia to St. Louis, and be sold at a handsome profit. With water transportation who can imagine the immense trade in lumber that will spring up between Southern Georgia and those portions of the West destitute of timber?

There is not a railroad in the State of Georgia, whose business, in our judgment, would not be materially increased by this commercial highway. Canals multiply railroads and make business for them.

Indeed, every city, town and village, every man, woman and child in Georgia is directly interested in the completion of this work, for all must experience its benefits.

We learn that the survey of the line is progressing satisfactorily, and that the Board is unanimously in favor of making Atlanta a point on this line.

We respectfully call the attention of the Legislature to the memorial introduced by Messrs. Hillyer and Jackson, asking aid from the United States Congress for it. It is certainly asking but little of the Legislature, and we hope that the memorial will receive a unanimous vote.

Gubernatorial Candidates.

The following names have been suggested for Governor: Ex-Gov. Charles J. Jenkins, Hon. Thomas Hardeman, Speaker James M. Smith, Gen. Wm. T. Wofford, Gen. John B. Gordon, Hon. Herbert Fielder, Hon. C. B. Wootten, Senator Candler.

Judge Warner for Governor.

Georgia being happily rid of Bullock, the new Governor must be a man of honesty and integrity. What man in the State is more devoted to principle than Judge Warner? Intellectually, he is a greater man than almost any of whom the State can boast. His legal ability is, by no means, out of place, for the chief minister of the law, ought, most assuredly to know the law. Moreover, there is another requisite in which many honest and honorable men are wanting, but of which Judge Warner is possessed. I mean economy. Not one cent would be uselessly expended if Warner was Governor. If a long, public

DECISIONS

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA.

Delivered at Atlanta, Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1871.

[REPORTED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, BY N. J. HAMMOND, S. C. REPORTER.]

E. F. & W. W. Lawson, Executors, vs. J. W. Grubb, Administrator. Injunction, from Burke.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

When it appears from the bill, that the complainant has a judgment at law for the amount of his debt, he has an adequate remedy by levy and sale of the property, and equity will not assume jurisdiction, to enforce by a decree, the collection of a judgment already obtained, where the allegations set up the insolvency of the parties merely, as the process of the Court upon the judgment at law, is the proper remedy; and a demurrer to such bill, on the grounds stated, ought to have been sustained.

Judgment reversed.

E. F. Lawson, J. S. Hook, S. H. Corker for plaintiffs in error.

A. R. Wright, J. T. Shumate, contra.

Mary M. Marshall, plaintiff in error, vs Elias S. Cohen, defendant in error. Case from City Court of Savannah.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

Where a landlord rents a store in a building which in the upper stories was rented out to other tenants, and a water closet in the upper part, to which all the tenants had access, by reasons of obstructions thrown in, overflowed and damaged the goods of the tenant in the store.

HELD, that the landload was liable for the damages accruing. The fact of the act being caused by the neglect or wantoness of other tenants, when the proof showed previous notice that the closet was in bad condition by abuse of each tenants to such landlord, the fact that it was in the premise at the time of the renting, and that the plaintiff had access to it, but did not use it, does not change the liability. It is the duty of the landlord to keep the premises free from the consequences arising ordinarily from the use of a water closet, which becomes a private nuisance, when not properly used and attended to, and if the landlord fails, and from such cause damage ensues, he is liable.

Judgment affirmed.

Thos. E. Loyd, A. W. Hammond & Son, for plaintiffs in error. George A. Mercer, contra.

Emeline and J. W. Johnson vs Jno. R. Kelly. Appeal from the Court of Ordinary of Jasper.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

In a contest for guardianship of the person of an idiot—a colored man, one applicant being a white person, and the other an only sister and nearest of kin to the ward, the proof showing that both were unobjectionable, and the court charged the jury "that other things being equal, relations were to be preferred."

HELD, That under the Code, section 1799, this charge did not in its full meaning present the provisions of law for the consideration of the jury. In the language of the law is "the nearest of kin by blood if otherwise unobjectionable shall be preferred." The philosophy of the law is wise, and its administration ought to be enforced, for superior advantages of wealth or intelligence in a stranger, cannot justly invoke the exercise of a discretion vested by law in the ordinary, when the nearest of kin is unobjectionable, and override the declaration of the law in favor of such nearest of kin by blood.

Judgment reversed

Geo. L. Bartlett for plaintiff in error.

Key & Preston, contra.

J. J. Bell and B. J. Mims vs. C. C. Thorpe. Rule vs. Sheriff from McIntosh.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

HELD, under the facts in this case, that the Sheriff, though out of office, was liable to Rule under the provisions of the Code, and it was error in the Judge upon the trial of the traverse of the Sheriff's answer, to reject evidence of the fact that the defendant in fi fa had property in his possession sufficient to satisfy the judgment, at the time of the return of nulla bona by such Sheriff upon the execution, as such evidence was admissable, and ought to have been submitted to the jury for their consideration under the charge of the Court as to the law of the case.

Judgment reversed.

W. R. Gaulden by brief for plaintiff in error.

No appearance for defendant.

A. W. Stone vs. H. S. Wetmore. Quo Warranto, from Chatham.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

Under the facts in this case:

HELD, That General Terry did not, by his removal of Wetmore as the Ordinary of Chatham county, and appointment of Stone thereto, convey such a title to the office, as upon the application of Stone to the civil courts, they could enforce under the Constitution and laws of this State.

HELD AGAIN, The facts recited in the petition for quo warranto, to-wit: That Stone, after the removal of Wetmore by General Terry, was appointed to the office, and filed his bond and was commissioned by the Governor, did not confer such a right to the office as courts can recognize. The commission did not convey more than the order of appointment upon which it was based, and that appointment expired with the powers that gave it existence.

HELD AGAIN, Appointments under the Reconstruction Acts of Congress, to civil office by the General Commanding, was not by virtue of the Constitution of the State, but by the power of the Acts of Congress, and did not confer upon the incumbents any title to the same longer than the acts themselves were of force.

S. J. Wilborn vs. Executors of Mathew Whitfield. Ejectment, from Baldwin.

WARNER, J.

This was an action brought by the executors of Whitfield against the defendant under the statute, to recover the possession of a tract of land in Jasper county. The plaintiff proved that the defendant was in possession of the land and that he rented it from Whitfield in the year 1864, also proved the value of the yearly rent of the land, and that the premises in dispute was part of the land which witness' father, Robinson, owned in his life-time. On cross examination the plaintiff's witness stated, that the defendant went into possession of the land in 1858, and had been in possession of it ever since; that Whitfield was now in possession of the land, that defendant never claimed the land as his own, that it was generally agreed by all the parties that the defendant should take possession of the land. After the plaintiff had closed his evidence, the defendant made a motion to make McAfee and others, who were devisees of the land in dispute, under the will of John Robinson, parties defendant, for the purpose of laying the foundation for the introduction of evidence to show a paramount title to the land in them, and to prove that the defendant went into the possession of the land as their tenant, which motion the court overruled, and the defendant excepted. The defendant then introduced himself as a witness, and offered to prove that he was not a tenant of Whitfield, but was the tenant of the persons claiming under the will of John Robinson, who were sought to be made parties defendant; that John Robinson had been seized and possessed of the land for forty years prior to his death, in 1857. This witness was rejected by the court on the ground that plaintiff's testator was dead, and the defendant excepted. The defendant offered in evidence a certified copy of the will of John Robinson for the purpose of showing title to the land in McAfee and others, which the court rejected, and the defendant excepted. The defendant offered to prove by James Robinson, the plaintiff's witness, the same facts which he attempted to prove by the defendant, who had been rejected, which the court refused to allow him to do. Whereupon the defendant excepted. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, and the defendant made a motion for a new trial, assigning as grounds therefor the rulings of the court as heretofore stated, which motion was overruled. Whilst we recognise the general rule of law, that a tenant cannot dispute the title of his landlord, yet, under the statement of facts disclosed by the record, the Court should have allowed the parties to have been made as proposed by the defendant, received the will of John Robinson in evidence, and also should have received evidence as to the identity of the land mentioned in the will, and evidence as to whether the defendant was in fact the tenant of the parties claiming under the will, or whether he was in possession of the land as tenant of Whitfield, so as to have ascertained from the evidence what were the rights of the respective parties. And then the Court should have charged the jury as to the law applicable to landlord and tenant, and left the jury to find the facts under the evidence. There was no error in the rejection of the defendant, Wilborn, as a witness, the other party, being dead; (see Administratrix of Robertson vs. Leoptrot, decided at this term of the Court) But we are satisfied this case has not been fairly tried on its merits, from the statement of facts disclosed by the record, and therefore order a new trial. Let the judgment of the Court below be reversed.

WARNER, J.

This was a proceeding instituted to remove an intruder under the provisions of the 4000th section of the Code. The defendant filed a counter affidavit, and upon the issue thus formed the case came on for trial in the Superior Court. The jury found a verdict for the defendant. A motion was made for a new trial on several grounds which was overruled by the court, and the defendant excepted. From the facts disclosed by the record, there was no error in overruling the motion for a new trial in this case. The defendant claimed the possession of the premises in good faith under a legal right as shown by his deed to the same. If the manner of his entry thereon was illegal, under that legal claim of right made in good faith to the possession of the land, the plaintiffs' remedy was by a proceeding for "formidable entry and detainer," or by an action of trespass to recover damages for the alleged illegal acts on the part of the defendant, but he could not be removed as an intruder under the provisions of the Code. WARNER, J.

This was an action brought by the plaintiff against the defendant on an open account for wages. The jury on the trial found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $114.00. A motion was made for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was contrary to law, contrary to the charge of the Court, and contrary to the evidence and the weight of the evidence. The Court amended the motion and the defendant excepted. The evidence was conflicting, and the jury were the proper judges as to the creditability of the testimony of the witnesses, and the weight to which it was entitled in view of their interest and relation to the parties. In such cases, the uniform ruling of this Court has been not to interfere with the verdict when no rule of law has been violated in submitting the facts to the jury, which probably might have produced a different result, the more especially when the presiding Judge who tried the cause is satisfied with the verdict. We find no error in this record, which will authorize this Court to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. Let the judgment of the Court below be affirmed.

J. J. McCown vs. Wm. M. Davidson, et al. Injunction, from Chatham.

WARNER, J.

This was a bill filed by the complainants to restrain the defendant as the tax collector of Chatham county, from collecting a tax on spirituous liquors for the year 1868, alleging there was no tax due thereon by law for that year, and also to restrain the defendant from collecting the penalty of one thousand dollars for not making their returns for liquors sold by them during the first of the year 1869, prior to the 18th of March, 1869, the act of that year. By the 8th section of the date of the act of 1868, providing for a specific tax on liquors sold, it is expressly provided that that section of the act is to go into effect until the 1st October next thereafter, which would be 1st October, 1869. The act of 1866 in relation to this tax on spirituous liquors, in view of the provisions of the constitution which was adopted in 1868, cannot fairly be said to be of form in relation to this tax after the adoption of the new constitution, and the passage of the subsequent acts of 1868, and 1869. Our conclusion then is, that there is no law of form in 1868 subsequent to the adoption of the constitution of 1868 which will authorize the tax collector now to collect the tax on spirituous liquors for that year subsequent to that time, and that as the Act of 1869 was not passed until the 18th March, 1869, it would be a harsh construction of it to say the least, that the complainants should be required to pay the assessment of one thousand dollars for not making their returns for that portion of the year 1869 prior to the date of the act. It is true the act is retractive in as much as it declares that the 4th section of it shall go into effect from and after the first day of January, 1869, but the defendants could not have known its provisions and requirements prior to its passage on the 14th March, 1869, so as to have regulated their conduct by it prior to that time, and now to assess them one thousand dollars for not doing what they were not required to do until the passage of the act, would be contrary to the fundamental principles of justice and right. We therefore affirm the judgment of the court below refusing to dissolve the injunction.

R. E. Lester, John J. Fleming, contra.

J. R. Jones vs. J. W. Lathrop & Co. Complaint, from Chatham.

WARNER, J.

This was an action brought by the plaintiff against the defendants as the drawers of five bills of exchange dated Savannah, 9th July, 1867, for two hundred pounds each, payable to the order of the plaintiff in London, at sixty days after sight, and directed to Robert Hutchinson, Liverpool, as the drawee thereof. The defendants plead that in drawing these bills they acted merely as the factors and agents of the plaintiff in shipping his cotton to Liverpool to be sold there, and that the bills were drawn by them upon the proceeds of the sale of the plaintiff's cotton as his agents, and under his instructions, according to the known and usual custom of the trade in such cases, and not on their own account, and had not received any valuable consideration therfor from the plaintiff as the drawers of said bills. It appears from the evidence in the record, that at the time these bills were drawn, Hutchinson, to whom the cotton was shipped, and upon whom the bills were drawn, was of good credit and standing as a merchant, but before the bills were presented for payment became insolvent. The evidence on the trial was quite voluminous, much of it being the written correspondence between the parties in relation to the sale of the cotton, and as to the sale of three sterling bills now sued on, which had been delivered to the plaintiff by the defendant, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant A motion was made for a new trial on the grounds set forth in the record, which was overruled by the court, and the plaintiff excepted. This action it will be observed, is brought against the defendant as the drawers of their bills of exchange, and is not brought against them for any neglect of duty as the factors and agents of the plaintiff, and the question is, whether the defendant are liable to the plaintiff as such drawers of the bills of exchange under the evidence disclosed in the record. The general rule of the law is, that the drawer of a bill of exchange, is liable for the payment thereof according to its tenor and effect to the payer named therein, and is founded on the theory that the drawer has funds in the hands of the drawee which he sells or assigns to the payer for a valuable consideration. Such is the general presumption of the law, but this general presumption of the law, as between the original contracting parties, may be rebutted and overcome by the facts of the case as between them. What are the facts of this case? The plaintiff had eight-five bales of cotton which he desired to have shipped to Liverpool and sold there and receive in payment therefor sterling bills, and for that purpose he sent his cotton to the defendants as his factors and agents in the city of Savannah. The cotton was received by the defendants on or about the 24th of January, 1867, who were instructed to ship the same to their correspondent in Liverpool, for sale. In obedience to these instructions the defendants shipped the cotton to Hutchinson, their correspondent, who received and sold the same, rendering an account of the sale of the cotton to the defendants, dated Liverpool, 5th June, 1867. This account of the sale of the cotton rendered by Hutchinson is thus stated: "Account of sale of 45 bales cotton per 'Sullivan,' from Savannah, sold by Robert Hutchinson for account of J. R. Jones, Esq., per Messrs. J. W. Lathrop & Co." The cotton was not sold on account of the defendants, but on account of the plaintiff, and the proceeds of the sale was not the property of the defendants, but the property of the plaintiff. To enable the plaintiff to receive the proceeds of the sale of his cotton in the hands of Hutchinson, the defendants' correspondent in Liverpool, these bills were drawn according to the usage and custom of the trade in such cases, and were sterling bills in the commercial sense of that term. The evidence in the record shows that the usage and custom of the trade was to draw sixty days bills as was done in this case by the commission merchant in Savannah, shipping the cotton, that it was the custom to put the proceeds of cotton sold at Liverpool to the credit of the merchant shipping, but the accounts at Liverpool showed to whom the cotton belonged, and no person except the merchant shipping the cotton could draw for the proceeds of the sale thereof, who would settle with his principal to whom the cotton belonged, that the accounts rendered in this case, were according to the usage and custom of the trade. These bills, therefore, were in fact drawn by the defendant as the shipping factors and agents of the plaintiffs, to enable him to receive the proceeds of his cotton shipped by them to Liverpool and sold by them, under his instructions, according to the usage and custom of the trade, and were not drawn by them in favor of the plaintiff for any valuable consideration received by them, from him, thereof. After these bills were drawn, and the amount of sales of the cotton had been rendered to the plaintiff, the same were delivered to him, who retained them in his possession, nearly three months, without objection, and in the meantime corresponded with the defendants as to the best time when to dispose of them at the highest rate of premium as sterling bills, and finally transmitted the same to them to sell for him, as his agents, when in their judgment, they could realize the highest market value therefor. As late as the 20th October, the plaintiff wrote the defendants to purchase for him three barrels of pork and deduct the price thereof from the sale of the bills of exchange there in their hands for sale. After the defendants had informed the plaintiff of the failure of Hutchinson, he wrote them on the 4th November: "The loss of the money, will be a terrible blow on me financially speaking. I feel very blue on the subject, you will please keep me regularly advised of any new developments in the matter, and for me see what can be made out of the matter." Again, on the 23d of November, he wrote them, stating, that "if by the 1st of December next, nothing satisfactory is received or heard from Mr. Hutchinson, and you see no reasonable chance to make anything out of the bills for the present or at an early day to reimburse you for the pork sent to me, I will remit the money to you for the pork." It is quite apparent that up to that time, the plaintiff did not consider the defendants were personally liable to him as the drawers of these bills, and he then had full knowledge of all the facts. The relation of principal and agent arises wherever one person expressly, or by implication authorises another to act for him, or subsequently, ratifies the acts of another in his behalf—code 2152. The form in which the agent acts is immaterial: if the principal's name is disclosed and the agent professes to act for him, it will be held to be the act of the principal—code 2169. The plaintiff's name was disclosed by the defendants as the owner of the cotton when shipped to Hutchinson, by them as the agents of the plaintiff and the amount was rendered as the proceeds of the sale of the plaintiffs cotton according to the usage and custom of the trade, and not as the defendants cotton. The agents authority will be construed to include all necessary and usual means for effectually executing it—code 2170. According to the evidence in this case, the drawing these bills by the defendants as the factors and shipping agents of the plaintiff, was the necessary and usual means to enable them as such agents, to obtain the proceeds of his cotton in sterling bills. Where the agency is known, and the credit is not expressly given to the agent, he is not personally responsible upon the contract. The question to whom the credit is given, is a question of fact to be decided by the jury in each case—sterling exchange for the proceeds thereof according to the usual custom of the trade, was well known to him, and the question whether the plaintiff received the bills from them on their credit as the drawers thereof, or on the credit of the proceeds of his own cotton shipped and sold by them in Liverpool as his agents, was a question to be decided by the jury under the evidence in the case. Whatever might have been the liability of the defendant as the drawer of these bills, if the same had been negotiated and in the hands of a bona fide holder for value, it is not necessary to discussion in this case. The main controlling question as presented by the record is, whether the defendants are personally liable to the plaintiff as the drawer of these bills of exchange under the facts and circumstances of the case? In our judgment they are not, and as there is no material errors in charge of the court to the jury, or in refusing to charge as requested, and the verdict being right under the law applicable to the facts of the case, we are of the opinion, that the judgment of the court below should be affirmed.

GEORGIA SUPREME COURT.

Cases to be Decided in the Supreme Court, in Order, July Term, 1871.

REPORTED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE CONSTITUTION, BY N. J. HAMMOND, SUPREME COURT REPORTER.

19. Brunswick Circuit.... 5 | 18. Eastern Circuit......

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA.—November 7, 1871.—After delivery of opinions, the Court heard concluding argument in No. 4, Brunswick Circuit.

No. 5, Brunswick Circuit, was argued. It is S. Zreylen et al. vs. Thos. H. Brosley. Injunction, from Appling.

H. B. Tompkins for plaintiff.

J. C. Nichols, contra.

The Injunction from Sumter of W. H. Brown vs. Jones, was argued.

J. A. Horsley, A. W. Hammond & Son, for plaintiff in error.

S. Lumpkin for defendant.

Court adjourned till to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M.

MCBRIDE & SMITH.—The special reporter of the New York Express in writing to that journal about the State Fair, makes the following complimentary allusion to Messrs. McBride & Smith of this city:

"No department of the Fair was more fully and ably represented than that of vehicles. Some of the best makers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta, and Macon, had a number of their choicest samples displayed. As superior evidences of progress in Southern manufactures, the handicraft of Messrs. McBride & Smith, of Atlanta, were most excellent illustrations. They showed general pleasure wagons, that, in design, construction, and elegance of finish were fully equal to the best made in any locality.

I was peculiarly struck with the superior character of a jump-seat wagon, which was finished complete, except painting, in order to demonstrate the quality of the material, as well as the perfection of the workmanship, and candidly confess that after making a thorough examination of this article, I was forced to admit that the people of this section had no occasion to incur the expense and inconvenience of sending their orders abroad when they could be quite as well suited at home."

DEKALB COUNTY TAKES THE BANNER.—Yesterday we attended the first monthly Fair of the Decatur Agricultural Club at Decatur. The attendance was large, and the display very fine. In some specialties the exhibition eclipsed our own and the State Fair. We noticed on the grounds, Captain G. H. Jones acting President of the Atlanta Agricultural and Industrial Association.

The following is a list of the articles exhibited and the names of the exhibitors:

IRISH POTATOES—SECOND CROP.

Judge E. A. Davis, specimens of Early Rose, grown since the middle of July, from seed grown last year by himself.

G. F. Turner, Early Goodrich, volunteer, grown since 12th of August.

F. W. J. Echols, Early Rose, second crop, very smooth and beautiful. Grown in old red clay, spaded two feet deep.

J. R. Smith, Early Rose, second crop.

Watson Kittridge, Early Rose, second crop planted August 1, fit for table October 8.

TURNIPS.

J. C. New, four varieties, ½ acre.
E. A. Davis, one variety, small patch.
G. F. Turner, two varieties, ½ acre.
W. J. Houston, five varieties, ½ acre.
T. N. Pollen, two varieties, ½ acre.
M. A. Candler, four varieties, ½ acre.
J. O. Powell, one variety, ½ acre.
John W. Fowler, one variety, ½ acre.

Mr. Candler's turnips [illegible], raised in bottom land, [illegible] cultivation [illegible]

One hundred and fifty pounds of Sea Fowl Guano was used per acre on the last.

SWEET POTATOES.

J. C. New, fine specimens, averaging about four pounds each, from a patch of 1½ acres.

M. A. Candler, fine specimens, averaging two pounds, from an acre patch.

Jerry Jones, a lad fourteen years of age, gardener for V. R. Tommey, exhibited half a bushel of sweet potatoes raised in a bed of clay, averaging about two and a half to three pounds each, which is worthy of honorable mention.

A sweet potato was exhibited, weighing 7½ pounds from the patch of Mr. Mason. About a fourth of it had been eaten off by a hog.

MISCELLANEOUS.

E. M. Kittridge, three fine ears Bread Corn.
J. O. Powell, table Peas, two crops made this year.
M. A. Candler, a ham two years old, cured by himself.
Watson Kittridge, four large heads of cabbage.
H. Clay Jones, yellow clover, sown 15th September. Remarkably luxuriant.
V. R. Tommey, red clover, sown 15th September.
W. J. Houston, Pear, ripens in March.
Mrs. M. A. Candler, a fine specimen of the Orange Quince, and specimens of the Shockley apple.
R. F. Davis, specimen stalks of Dixon cotton.

HOGS.

H. Clay Jones exhibited a fine thorough bred Berkshire Boar, four months old, "Johnny Reb," from the celebrated stock of J. M. Laytham, Paris, Ky.

INVENTIONS.

William D. Kirkpatrick exhibited a rat trap, which for simplicity and effectiveness is not surpassed.

L. S. Brown of Covington, exhibited a subsoil attachment to the plow.

BREAD AND BUTTER.

Mr. G. F. Turner exhibited a loaf each of corn and wheat bread, made with home yeast.

Miss Carrie Tommey, twelve years old, exhibited a loaf of wheat bread made and baked by herself. If coming events cast their shadows before them old matrons may tremble for their laurels as house-keepers. Miss Tommey will carry off the highest honors.

Mrs. M. A. Echols exhibited a loaf of wheat bread. Like everything else she turns her hand to, it was "ne plus ultra."

Mrs. E. M. Kittridge exhibited five pounds of butter in a compact ball, well worked and sweet.

Mrs. E. A. Webster exhibited a brace of Grecian or butter ducks, five pounds, sweet, and of a rich, golden color.

Mrs. C. A. Mitchell exhibited four balls of butter, sweet and fine, but weighing less than the required five pounds.

AWARD OF PREMIUMS.

The club offered premiums for the best bread and turnips, and special premiums had been offered for the best corn bread and butter.

The following committee examined the articles contesting for a premium, viz: J. W. Kirkpatrick, A. L. Pitts, G. B. Hudson, Mrs. M. A. Candler, and Mrs. Dr. Jones.

They awarded the premium for the best loaf of corn bread, and the premium for the best loaf of wheat bread, to Mrs. E. C. Turner. Honorable mention of Miss Tommey and Mrs. Echols. It was difficult for the committee to decide between the butter exhibited by Mrs Webster and Mrs Kittridge, and they divided the premium between them. Honorable mention of Mrs Mitchell.

The premium for the best turnips was awarded to Col J C New. The T R has made out to turnip this time, even if Candler's dogs can out run his hounds.

Hon M A Candler delivered the premiums in an appropriate speech.

COUNTY FAIRS.

Hon. M. A. Candler J. W. Kirkpatrick, and W. J. Houston were appointed a committee to confer with similar committees from the Stone Mountain and Lithonia Clubs upon the subject of a County Fair, at such time and place as they may select, their action to be ratified by the several Clubs.

INTERESTING FEATURE.

An interesting feature was the presence, en masse, of the pupils of Mrs. Witcher's day school. At special request they enlivened the occasion with several beautiful songs. It was decidedly pleasant and witchery.

NEXT EXHIBITION.

The next exhibition will take place on the first Tuesday in December. Everybody is expected to attend with specimens of stock raised, produce grown, and articles manufactured in DeKalb.

Messrs. Candler and Houston offered a special premium of $2 to the girl under fifteen years of age who exhibited the best pair of socks of her own knitting.

A special premium is offered for the best pair of pigs exhibited.

CLOSING REMARKS.

The exhibition yesterday demonstrated that DeKalb is the banner county. Whether for men or meat, beauty or bacon, produce or progress, colts or children, women or water power, she is unsurpassed.

Specimens of the articles exhibited there will be placed on exhibition at Messrs. Echols & Wilson's.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS.—The Tax Books of Fulton county will be closed on the 15th.

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

Strong and Pure Rich Blood—Increase of Flesh and Weight—Clear Skin and Beautiful Complexion Secured to all.

Dr. Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing Cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this Truly Wonderful Medicine, that

EVERY DAY AN INCREASE IN FLESH AND WEIGHT IS SEEN AND FELT.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fevers, Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent powers to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

How an Old Atlantian Lost a Fortune—A Georgia Diamond Worth Twenty-Five Millions of Dollars.

From the recently published work by Dr. Stephenson on the geology, mineralogy, etc., of the State, we take the following interesting account of the diamond mines of Hall county. Many of our old citizens will recognize the singular adventure related by the author of Dr. Loyd, the whilom proprietor of the Washington Hall, in connection with the diamond hunting in that valuable section of our State:

Running parallel with the marble is the immense ledge of itacolumnite, or elastic sandstone, the matrix of the diamond. It extends throughout the country for thirty miles, and in every gold deposit, or branch mine near it, have been found splendid diamonds by the gold washers, who being totally ignorant of their nature or value, either lost or destroyed most of them.

Some were sent to Europe to be cut and set in jewelry, but most of them were lost. Some of them are still in the hands of the finders, who keep them as mementos, in their rough state. Being entirely ignorant of their nature or value, none were picked up but such as were without incrustation, which, in Brazil and Golconda, amounts to only the one-tenth part of the whole product. Four-fifths of all the diamonds found in any country are small, and only fit for mechanical purposes—in general, being less than half a carat, or from one to two grains. The carat is a fraction less than four grains (three and one sixth,) but in all estimates and sales in the mines the carat is put at four grains. It originated from the use of the seed of a plant in the East Indies, in the sale of diamonds. This berry, which grows only in that region, though not very accurate, answered the purposes of the semi-civilized Indians for several thousand years.

The yield in Brazil, for forty years, from the labor of from thirty thousand to sixty thousand hands, ranged between one thousand and twelve hundred ounces. Of this large amount they rarely found more than three or four, and never more than ten, that weighed more than thirty carats. These facts strongly confirm the opinion that, when developed, Hall county will be as rich in diamonds as Brazil, and contain even a larger per cent. of sizable ones of the first water. In washing for gold, all the large ones would, from the construction of the machines, necessarily be lost or thrown away with the quartz gravel with which they are associated, and only such as passed into the rifflers, with the grains of gold and fine sand, would be found in the pannings, after the day's work was done. All those found in Hall county were thus found, weighing from two to six carats, some few less, and three were of large size. One of these, as before stated, was broken up to see the cause of their lustre, by the ignorant miners. Another was used for years by the boys as a "middle-man" in playing marbles; and the largest one by far was lost by Dr. Loyd, who was employed to oversee thirty negroes in working the Glade Gold Mine, a deposit twelve miles northeast of Gainesville.

During the four years he was employed, he picked out of the sands of the pannings for gold every night, after the day's washing was over, about half a pint of pretty stones, which he gave to his wife, who put them in a mustard bottle in an old cupboard, except such as the children took a fancy to, which were generally lost. When the bottle was full, she made a little bag and put them into that for future amusement. Some of these, from their size and reputed lustre, must have been worth from twenty thousand to fifty thousand dollars. But the "big one" was found by himself whilst working in the pit in the place of a sick hand. He said that about two hours by sun (he had no watch,) while raising a gravel, he found a stone just like the little ones, except that it was bright and shining only on one side, the other side being covered with a crust of brown stuff. It was about the size of a "guinea egg." Being hard pushed to keep the wheelbarrows filled with gold gravel, so as to furnish grit for constant washing, he laid it on the bank by a gum tree, which stood close by, until night, when he intended to take it up to the cabin and give it to his wife and children, as being the largest of the pretty stones he had found. But when night came, the machines were emptied of their gold sand, and, in the hurry of the moment, he forgot all about the pretty stone.

Twelve years afterwards he was shown a rough diamond, and at once recognized the contents of the "mustard bottle," and the "big one," he had laid up by the gum tree. Soon after he found the "big pretty stone," the lease expired, and the company who employed him sent home the hands, and quit work. About the same time Mrs. Loyd died; and his daughters, who had reached womanhood, married, and moved away to South-western Georgia, and took the little furniture they had, among which was the cupboard, which then contained the fated bag. When he became satisfied of the value of the stones, he at once left Atlanta, where he was keeping the Washington Hall, and went to his daughter; but she had no knowledge of the bag or mustard bottle. They were gone. He then went to the mine, and looked long and anxiously for the stone by the gum tree. No tree was there. The ground had been cleared and cultivated in corn for ten years. He looked in vain for any sign of the place. None existed. He now washed the gravel from the heaps where he thought it was, for weeks and months, but he found it not. Discouraged and weary of hunting, he returned to Atlanta to die. From his discription of its size and character, there can be no doubt of its being a diamond; and being, as he described it, about as large as a "guinea egg," must, if pure, have been worth about twenty-five million dollars.

The Atlanta Western Air-Line Railroad.

A charter has been obtained for a narrow gauge Railroad from Gadsden to the State line east of Cross Plains, in the direction of Atlanta, Ga., to be known by the name indicated by the title of this article. The object had in view, is to procure a direct outlet from Atlanta to Gadsden, and from Gadsden by means of the East-Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, to complete the Western Air-Line to Decatur, Huntsville and Cincinnati, thus making a short cut, and a very important and desirable one to the great West. This Road will greatly enhance the interests of this section, while the exigences of the situation of Atlanta imperatively demand its construction. The wonder is, that it was not built years ago.

The distance from Gadsden to Atlanta is about 95 miles—it is not over 100 miles by a straight line at the furthest. Atlanta can procure all the coal and iron and lumber she will ever need at Gadsden, by the construction of this line of road from 95 to 100 miles in length.

The Montgomery and Chattanooga Railroad, recently inaugurated under favorable auspices, will obligate to lay down at Gadsden all the coal and iron demanded by the "Gate City," if she will agree to come with the iron horse after it. The Memphis and Charleston Railroad can furnish it from the inexhaustible fields of Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee on the line of the Road north of Gadsden to Chattanooga. The E. A. & C. Railroad will also contract to augment her stores from other portions of the State, together with produce and freight of every kind direct from the Western States over the shortest line.

If Birmingham is an objective point of importance, it would be far best and cheapest for Atlanta to build the road to Gadsden and make use of the road bed of the Montgomery and Chattanooga Railroad from Gadsden below, to a point opposite (or from within, as the line may be located) the county of St Clair and then run diagonally across the coal fields of St. Clair to Birmingham. This plan would secure a direct line to the West—the very shortest, Atlanta could possibly get—while it would place the mineral wealth north, south and west of Gadsden, by the E. A. and C. and the M. and C. Railroads, within convenient access to the "Gate City." It is also a shorter line to Birmingham than the one by Talladega and less competition to be encountered. The preliminary survey of this route should be made at any rate, before the lower line is settled upon.

A direct line from Gadsden by Cross Plains to Atlanta is preferable, but a connection with the State Road at Marietta will not be much out of the way. Atlanta must choose one or the other horns of the dilemna. If a direct line to Gadsden will conduce to her prosperity, there should be no hesitation in building the road, no matter how it may effect the business of the Western and Atlantic Road. This being a shorter and more direct line to the west than any other furnishes the best argument in favor of building the road. Fear of competition with the State Road is believed to be the only barrier to the consummation of a decision in favor of the route by Gadsden. Atlanta had better "play for something in sight"—something tangible, cheap and expeditious and meet the citizens of this portion of Alabama on half way ground with the road.—Gadsden (Ala.) Times.

"To be, or not to Be—that's the Question."

Whether to suffer with mental anguish,
Feverish lips, cracking pains, dyspeptic
agonies,
And nameless bodily suffering,
From want of nerve, and unfounded prejudice;
Or whether, with sudden dash,
Jump into the general current,
Seize a bottle of Plantation Bitters,
And, as Gunther swears, be myself a man again.
Three months it is since thus I thought,
And spoke with faith exceeding weak;
But Gunther said my eyes were sallow,
My visage haggard, my breath tremendous bad—
My disposition troublesome—in fact,
He gently hinted I was fast becoming
Quite a nuisance, and strongly insisted;
And it was thus I reluctantly yielded.
Four bottles now beneath my vest have disappeared;
Friends say a changed man now is Jones.
My food has relish, my appetite is keen;
My step elastic, my mind brilliant, and Nine pounds, avoirdupois, is added to my weight.
A gentle hint, followed before too late,
Quite gratifying to the tailor, as well as Dr.

The Martyrs of Neglect.—It is not too much to say that tens of thousands are now suffering from biliousness, indigestion, constipation, periodical fevers, general debility and nervous affections, who might be restored to perfect health within a month or less by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The multitudes who have been cured of these and other ailments by the use of this well known specific are always ready to testify to its virtue as a preventive and a remedy. They are spread over the whole country; they are eager to praise and recommend it; and yet, notwithstanding its vast popularity, there are many invalids, and many who are continually exposed to the epidemical diseases, against which it is a sure protection, who, either through indifference or incredulity neglect to seize the opportunity to cure and means of prevention, which they have only to reach out their hands to obtain. This is strange: it is one of the anomalies of human nature which it is impossible to account for or explain. It is, however, quite certain that every day the number of these Martyrs of Neglect is diminishing; This is proved by the statistics of the sales of the great remedy. During the present fall the demand for it has increased beyond all precedent, and it seems as if in the end the entire community would realize the important fact, that when all other medicines prescribed for the above complaints fail, it can and does effect a cure. As a protection against the diseases most common at this season, there is nothing comparable with it.
